SYNOPSIS

Gouri, a documentary film-maker takes a journey with her friend to collect material for her documentary project on instrumental music. They go to a village with the help of a school teacher. They travel to meet a musician, who has gone elsewhere to give a performance. Both of them are forced to stay in the village till the musician returns. The film tries to capture the human attitude of two friends who are placed in a situation which is familiar yet unfamiliar. As the seemingly simple situation develops, the film explores the way in which both characters physically as well as mentally fit into a landscape and climate of the space. Sometimes "vision" isn't what is visible; sound isn't exactly what is heard.
