

A TALE OF TWO METROS

URBAN PLANNING INSIGHTS FROM TOKYO AND MUMBAI

You have got Mumbai, a bustling megacity on one hand, and Tokyo, one of the most vibrant megalopolises on the other. At first glance, they seem as different as night and day. What's the common thread, you ask, beyond the obvious crowds and rapid development?

National Gallery of Modern Art, Mumbai, Ministry of Culture, Government of India, Plural, and Avid Learning present A Tale of Two Metros: Urban Planning Insights from Tokyo and Mumbai. A dynamic session with expert architects and designers who will dive deep into the interplay of art, culture, and history in designing inclusive urban environments. Together, they will uncover the strategies for harnessing Tokyo's visionary urban planning and leveraging cross-cultural collaborations to craft Mumbai's sustainable growth.

Join us as we foster innovative thinking through an engaging presentation followed by an inspiring panel discussion exploring the profound influence of public engagement in creating cities that are not just spaces but living works of art.
